1. Jane's Unconventional Weapons Response Handbook

Item no. 90302, cost $50.00

Recognize and respond effectively to the use of unconventional weapons

Jane's Unconventional Weapons Response Handbook provides first responders with the pivotal information they need to recognize and respond to terrorist and criminal use of unconventional weapons. The detailed checklists and procedures outlined within the Handbook enable responders to plan for, respond to and recover from incidents involving unconventional threats, including the use of IEDs (improvised explosive devices), conventional military weapons, radiological weapons, lasers, radio frequency weapons or non-lethal weapons. Instruction covers a number of core areas, such as critical consideration of exclusion zone parameters, secondary devices (including command staff involvement in threats posed by secondary devices) and much more.

Key contents include:

- Pre-incident planning
- Force protection and operational security
- Recognition features and indicators
- Response checklists for each type of incident
- Post-incident management and recovery

The use of unconventional weapons of all types is an evolving and growing threat, as terrorist and criminal groups continue to develop new techniques and tactics. This informative resource is intended to fill knowledge gaps and be used in conjunction with locally or federally mandated policies and procedures.

2. Jane's Chem-Bio Handbook, 3rd Edition

Item no. 90305, cost $60.00

Essential chem-bio information for all first responders

Training and a flexible emergency response plan is the basis of effective front-line defense against a chemical or biological threat. Jane's Chem-Bio Handbook, now in its third edition, provides the most comprehensive single-source instruction to date for both first-responders and all others who may be involved in a chem-bio incident. This edition includes more in-depth site vulnerability information and is organized to increase overall usability in the field. New content includes mission critical strategic considerations (risk management, co-ordination between local, state and federal agencies, etc.), a breakdown of NIMS (National Incident Management System), and separate coverage of chemical and biological incidents (key differences between the two types of incidents and the required respective responses).

Key contents include:

- Pre-incident planning
- On-scene procedures for emergency response personnel
- Checklists for rapid response
- Latest triage and casualty management
- Chem-bio agent recognition and delivery systems
- Management of casualties
- Post-incident recovery, including critical incident stress debriefing
- Meteorological conditions
- Case studies

From mission critical considerations to separate coverage of chemical and biological incidents, Jane's Chem-Bio Handbook expertly guides you through the compounded difficulties associated with a chem-bio attack.
